

(248) This above-mentioned world we call “the world of incorporeal figures.”¹⁶ The resurrection of images,¹⁷ the lordly forms, and all the promises of prophecies find their reality through it. Certain intermediate souls possess illumined suspended figures whose loci are the spheres. These are the numberless angels in their classes—rank upon rank in accordance with the levels of the spheres. But the sanctified godly sages may rise higher than the world of the angels.